Third party report example for: ICTCBL3011A – Install and terminate coaxial cable

Date: xx/xx/xx

Dear Assessor,

Student Name has been known to me for the period of XX years. He has been an employee of Company Name working in a variety of roles including work with vehicle and base station radios, video distribution and pay TV installations.

Overview of RPL candidate

Student Name is a self-supervising technician and in all cases his work has been consistent with best practice and both myself and customers have been satisfied with outcomes. Student Name works safely and I include two examples of JSA's he submitted as part of record keeping to demonstrate his competency.

Specific examples of the RPL's candidate's work with references that show evaluation of performance.

I confirm I understand my role in the RPL process and confirm that I agree to participate. With regard to Student Name's competency to install and Terminate Coaxial Cable he has worked in a number of situations and has installed a range of cable and connecting hardware. The video distribution is mostly with RG6 and RG11 and F type connectors.

His radio and base station work is with 50 Ohm coaxes and a range of connectors and cable. This includes low loss cable that is capable of accepting the higher power for radio work and hardline coax at the base stations. Student Name completed work for Company Name in Location during dates xx/xx/xx to xx/xx/xx. He completed this unsupervised remote from the office and tested and handed over the installation for operations. His testing was completed with a Bird thruline wattmeter and a hand held fluke DSP2000. I reviewed the test results and confirmed Student Name's assessment of compliance with industry standards and customer requirements.

Must include supporting evidence.

We require photos of all installations and I have included these along with the test results with this report. Student Name's work with video distribution for Company Name is extensive. I have included photos and test results of a specific installation in Location that was completed by Student Name in a self-supervising role.
